AMUNDSEN RESCUE FLIER MISSING Residents Battle Breaking Dam

PLANES AGAIN ARE BLOCKED BY HEAVY FOG

MOSCOW, June 30.—(U.P.)—Copyright 1928, by United Press. Babushkin, noted Russian aviator, started at 9 p. m. yesterday to fly from the Russian ice breaking steamer Matig to the Italia ice camp of North-east Land, and has not yet returned, the Matig radioed here tonight.

The Matig, now in Spitzbergen waters, left Archangel many days ago to aid in the search for the crew of the Italia. She reported her position several days ago as 20 miles southeast of Hope Island. She is making her way through the ice towards the Italia camp, hoping to take off the six men imprisoned there. The Matig carries two airplanes.

YAKUTSK, Siberia, June 30.—Lieut. Sarko took off hurriedly at noon today in his ski-equipped airplane in a desperate attempt to save from death the first of six men from the wrecked dirigible Italia imprisoned on the ice off North-east Land.

Today Lundberg sent over the camp's emergency radio set a message that caused a shiver of apprehension at the relief ship Quest, the headquarters here of rescue work.

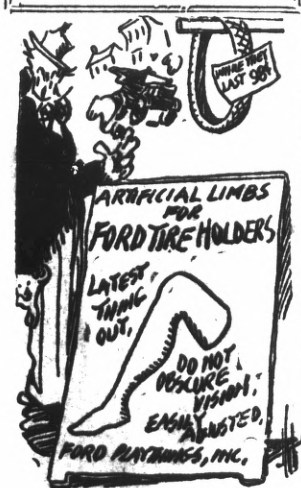

The ice floe on which the little red silk tent that comprises the camp is pitched was in immediate danger of being swept into the open sea, where rescue would be impossible.

De Julie was unhurt.

PRESENT WIDTH OF HARBOR WILL BE MAINTAINED

It now appears as if the narrowing of the inner part of the Richmond harbor to 100 feet will not take place because of new conditions that have arisen. Effort to bring about this narrowing were met with opposition and the Federal engineers now even propose to get busy at once, if the city can supply its half of the cost and dredge the entire west side of the harbor, giving a total width, counting 75 feet on each side, the government is not expected to take care of, of 1000 feet.

It is expected that the largest ocean freighters will make use of this harbor as commerce develops. With some of these running about 500 feet in length, 1000 feet width, is not deemed by experts to be too much with several such craft navigating the northern arm of the harbor at the same time.

The United States engineers' office in San Francisco now makes the proposition to dredge the entire west side of the harbor excepting the seventy-five feet at the wharf line to a depth of twenty-six feet, permit the silt to (Continued on Page Eight)

El Dorado Option To Be Renewed

It is said that the City Council is intending to take final action very soon on the proposition of leasing the El Dorado Oil company's copra crushing plant and steamer terminal on the inner harbor, as local merchants and citizens interested in furnishing employment to Richmond workers are urgently requesting action.

Though it is known that other communities are making alluring propositions to the El Dorado company, inquiry at that corporation's office in San Francisco establishes the fact that it still has the Richmond site, on the west side of the inner harbor, under option, which is being extended. The company has not purchased the property and states it cannot afford to do so until its requests for maintenance of deep water for its large freighters are met.

The company will bring in freighters of deep draught to its terminal, wherever established and will put about 6000 tons of dried copra a month over its wharves. Two other concerns, expected to use the terminal will bring in about 2500 tons monthly of copra and nut oil.

Development of Oil Plant Promised by Richfield Co.

Completion and operation of the Pacific Petroleum Corporation here on a much larger scale than contemplated by the Doherty interests, is the intention of the Richfield Oil company, according to Mayor Mattie Chandler, who returned yesterday from Los Angeles where she conferred with the new owners of the local oil plant.

Mayor Chandler interviewed C. M. Fuller, vice-president of the Richfield company. Fuller failed to state, however, whether the Richmond plant would be made the principal terminal of the company in Northern California. Fuller's direct word to Richmond was: "Richmond people may be assured that our company plans a more extensive development than that contemplated by Doherty."

Frank Seaver, president of the Pacific Petroleum company, who located the plant in Richmond, informed Mayor Chandler that he had every confidence the Richfield company would develop the local plant on a large scale.

LOCAL WIVES SEEK FREEDOM

Two wives, one from El Cerrito and the other from Richmond, yesterday filed pleas for divorces in superior court.

Charging cruelty and failure to provide, Mrs. Fredia A. Andrews instituted suit against Herman C. Andrews, Standard Oil company employee at Richmond. Andrews, she claims, has remained away from home at nights, has failed to take her to places of amusement and has cursed her. She asks to be awarded custody of two children and $90 monthly for support. They married in 1921 and separated June 10. The suit was filed through Attorney Tsar Calfee.

Mrs. Barbara Stanley of El Cerrito declares her husband, Oscar Stanley has struck her and told her to leave. She asks alimony of $75 monthly. They married in 1924 and separated June 19. A. B. Pinning and T. H. DeLap are attorneys for plaintiff.

The tests at the city hall which included leaping from a second story window into a net, a fifty-foot ladder climb, the carrying of a 50-pound dummy up a 25-foot ladder and a hand-over-hand climb on the under side of a ladder, furnished interest to residents of the neighborhood.

IS SOUTH AMERICA TO HAVE A WAR?

Rumors of war have come to us so long from the other side of the Atlantic, that we have come unconsciously to believe that war on a large scale is impossible in the Western Hemisphere. The statement of the Brazilian press, that a great conflict is impending in South America over the Paraguayan-Bolivian boundary question, is somewhat startling. According to this statement Bolivia is importing arms on an extensive scale and is making other preparations to attack Paraguay, and if the clash comes it will inevitably draw other nations within its orbit and perhaps involve the entire continent.

Boundary disputes have been the bane of South American history. From the days when Simon Bolivar first awakened in the Spanish and Portuguese colonies an ambition for independence, down to the present, South America has never been without one or more border conflicts. Some of these disputes have extended almost a century. Just now there are three border controversies pending all of which are more or less disquieting. Peru and Chile are still contending over Tacna-Arica; Peru and Columbia are negotiating, fortunately somewhat more successfully of late, their rival claims to territory now held by the former and lying between the Colombian border and the Amazon river while Bolivia and Paraguay are approaching war over Great Chaco.

Gran Chaco is a great unsettled grassy plain of 92,000 square miles, stretching up the west side of the Paraguay river. When Paraguay gained her independence, in 1811 this territory came under dispute, both Bolivia and Argentina asserting their claims to ownership. Eventually Argentina's claim was settled by awarding her a third of the disputed area, but the contention between Paraguay and Bolivia continued. Each of these nations has had troops in this area for patrol purposes and there have been repeated clashes that have increased the tension between the two peoples. Recently the matter has been referred to a mixed commission at Benos Aires under the neutral chairmanship of Argentina but without effect.

The danger in this situation lies in the possibility of its starting a general conflagration. A war between Bolivia and Paraguay probably would be a short lived affair as Paraguay is poorly equipped to fight its bigger neighbor. But Paraguay has friends and Bolivia has enemies who are likely to be involved in the conflict which may become an occasion for squaring up a number of old scores. It is, therefore, sincerely hoped that pressure may be brought to bear upon the two rivals to lead them to accept conciliation rather than arms.—Manchester Guardian.

BEAUTY

By LAURA LANE

Expressionless beauty may be excellent for the texture of your skin, but the woman who is unable to smile or to frown, her brow thoughtfully furrowed, is more likely to resemble a wax statue than a living being, breathing, thinking human being.

I once knew a woman, who, if by mistake she showed a smile, it was the result of her mouth in a spontaneous laugh, would turn down her mouth and frown, and would not smile again until she was told to do so.

As a matter of fact, beauty is not a static thing. It is a dynamic thing. It is a thing that is constantly changing. It is a thing that is constantly growing. It is a thing that is constantly evolving.

The woman who makes a fine art of dressing without being extravagant will surely find this model in flat crepe admirably suited to her plans. The skirt is plaited and attached to a bodice, while the blouse features the dolman sleeves and closed neck. It is trimmed with embroidery and belted with self-material. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 39-inch crepe, and 1 yard 36-inch lining.

Pictorial Review Printed Pattern No. 3610 Sizes, 14 to 18 years, and 34 to 44 bust, 35 cents. Embroidery 13134, blue or yellow transfer, 30 cents.

Visiting The World Children

Children of Guatemala

So Acop, Father and Mother with Ixtla trotted to town. They trotted because those of their tribe never walked. "We of the Quiche tribe trot, trot always," Acop's father said once.

Mother did not break one egg in the basket she had balanced on her head. Father did not break one piece of the delicate pottery he had strapped to his back.

Ixtla had a good time. She liked the jog, jog, jog of her mother's trot. She, too, would trot when she was older.

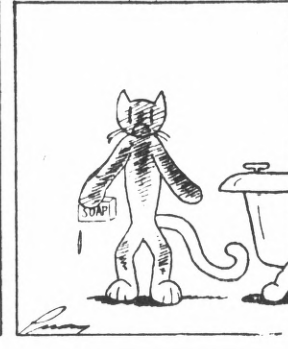

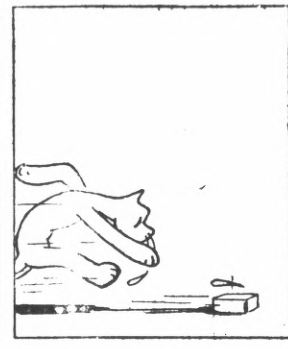

Acop and his family trotted through a forest. Acop saw mahogany trees, some far over 60 feet tall. He noticed the bright leaves. He knew these trees were perhaps 300 years old. The family trotted down from the hills where they lived.

Suddenly Acop said, "I feel an earthquake!" "Do not mind," said Father. "Ours is an earthquake country. It is a land of volcanoes, too." And on and on he ran.

But Acop seemed to feel the earth sway like the bright mahogany leaves in a breeze. He was not afraid.

Yachts Ready To Sail Ocean In Two Races

NEW YORK, June 29.—(U.P.)—Within the next eight days two fleets of yachts will be racing against time across the Atlantic. Tomorrow a group of schooners less than 50 feet long will sail from Sandy Hook to Santander Harbor, Spain, where a cup donated by Queen Victoria awaits the winner. Then on July 7, a larger group of vessels will follow the same route for the cup donated by King Alfonso XIII.

The last great ocean race was held in 1905 and in that year the schooner Atlantic led the way over eleven starters for the German Emperor's cup. The Atlantic, which also is entered this year, set the North Atlantic sailing record of 12 days, four hours and one minute.

The present course, with Ambassador Lightship as the point of departure and the buoy off the light at Santander as the finish, follows the southern steamer course to Longitude 24 and then the Great Circle to the Spanish coast. It is a distance of some 3552 miles although any yacht whose master dared the ice fields off Cape Race could save a couple of hundred miles.

Since the 1905 race, scores of yachts, large and small, have traversed the Atlantic and many of them have made fast runs. In recent years two little schooners have particularly distinguished themselves.

Primrose IV, owned by Frederick L. Ames in 1926 ran from Newport to Falmouth in 23 days and 17 hours, while last summer the Nicanor, manned by a group of Harvard students scudded across from Boston Light to the Lizard in 20 days and 7 hours, or about a day and a half over the record made by Alice, a boat of about the same size, 61 years before, over practically the same course.

After their arrival in Spain, the entrants in the Spanish cup races will be given an opportunity to join in two port-to-port runs for prizes given by the Spanish Yacht club in which Spanish yachts will participate. The first run is from Santander to Bilbao and the second from Bilbao to San Sebastian as well as Santander.

The largest vessel entered in the race for the King's cup is the brig Aloha, owned by Arthur Curtiss of New York. It is 218 feet over all and is conceded an excellent chance of winning.

400 American Boys To Visit Europe Nations

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 1.—(U.P.)—Four hundred American boys, 100 of whom are sons of Rotarians, will visit Norway, Sweden and Denmark on a vacation trip this summer. The party will leave July 23 and return late in September.

Sven V. Knudsen, a citizen of Denmark, has established in the last four years, literally thousands of contacts between the boys of Scandinavian countries and boys of the United States, by securing names of several thousands of boys and asking them to write to each other across the ocean.

Since 1926 annual trips were arranged for 100 boys. This year the number has been increased to 400. Three hundred fifty young lads have been listed and it is expected the balance of the party will be selected very soon.

PRODUCTION RECORD MADE BY CHEVROLET

All previous production records in the 16 year existence of the Chevrolet Motor Company, according to information received by the Golden Rule Chevrolet company, Richmond dealers, were topped in May, when the company turned out 140,700 units.

On May 28 Chevrolet production was 7075 finished cars and trucks, the highest single day's volume in the history of the company. The records resulted when the sales organization asked the production department to over-run its quota for the month.

These figures, which were released by W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the manufacturing company, have lent substance to a growing feeling in automotive circles that Chevrolet will not only equal its 1927 volume of slightly more than a million cars, before the close of 1928 but that it will duplicate its 1927 performance of making and selling more automobiles than any other company in the world.

According to the information provided by Mr. Knudsen, 651,500 cars and trucks were produced this year to June 1. This includes 32,000 new cars built in December so that dealers in all parts of the world would have the new models when they were announced January 1. Up to June 1 last year the company had turned out 512,000 new models; in 1926 by June 1, 326,000 units, and in 1925, no less than one third of the volume achieved during the corresponding period this year.

The output for the month of May this year was 25,000 units in excess of the 115,000 cars and trucks built in May, 1927, which until this year had been the largest production month in company history. By the middle of the year, it is predicted, the number of new Chevrolet cars built will be well beyond the three quarter million mark.

All production operations of the company have been running at capacity since the first of the year. The high May volume was made possible by expansion of several of the domestic plants and the opening of a new assembly plant at Atlanta, Ga., which got in its first full month's production during May. To the 15 domestic plants now in operation a sixteenth is soon to be added, at Kansas City.

Throwing Lighted Material From Car Brings First Arrest

First arrests and convictions resulting in enforcement of the state law prohibiting throwing of burning cigar, cigarettes and matches from moving vehicles were made recently.

Two men caught throwing burning cigarette stubs from an automobile while passing a grain field were arrested by traffic officers and fined $50 each in a justice's court.

Recent heavy losses from fire traced directly to careless smokers have stimulated watchfulness on the part of state traffic officers and the State Forestry department. Every means possible will be used to protect the forest and grain fields from destruction by fire.

The California State Automobile association points out that every motorist should know and observe the provisions of this fire prevention legislation. The law provides that throwing from any moving vehicle any lighted cigarette, cigar or other burning substance or any substance or thing which may cause a fire is punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months or both such fine and imprisonment.

Although repeated warnings are broadcast and signs are posted conspicuously in the national forests, there still many careless smokers who are a menace to the trees and fields during the dry season. Relentless war will be made upon this class of motorists this season, it is declared, since the lack of rainfall has made the fire danger much greater than usual.

WORK STARTED ON NEW AUTO PLANT IN L. A.

Ground was broken Tuesday, May 29, for the new Willys-Overland automobile factory located at Los Angeles. Ceremonies were conducted before a great crowd of officials of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, Willys-Knight and Whippet automobiles.

It is expected that by November 1, and perhaps sooner, California manufactured Willys-Knight and Whippet cars will be rolling over the railroad lines of the west to the 300 odd dealers, and also to the Far East, according to Houtman and McQuone, local dealers.

The new plant covers a 20-acre tract adjoining the central manufacturing district of Los Angeles. The building contract calls for completion within 90 days. Machinery and manufacturing equipment installation will begin while the building operations are in progress. The factory engineers are using every means at their command to rush the project through to completion.

L. V. Starr, vice-president and general manager for J. Leavitt & company, was master of ceremonies at the ground breaking. J. A. Sheldon, works manager for Willys-Overland, Inc., who with W. R. Ourand, works engineer, represented John N. Willys in awarding the contract, told those present about the company's plans.

"Willys-Overland needs this assembly plant as quickly as possible," declared Starr. "The factories are working at capacity producing Willys-Knight and Whippet cars, and there are still 30,000 unfilled orders on the books and orders are pouring in daily."

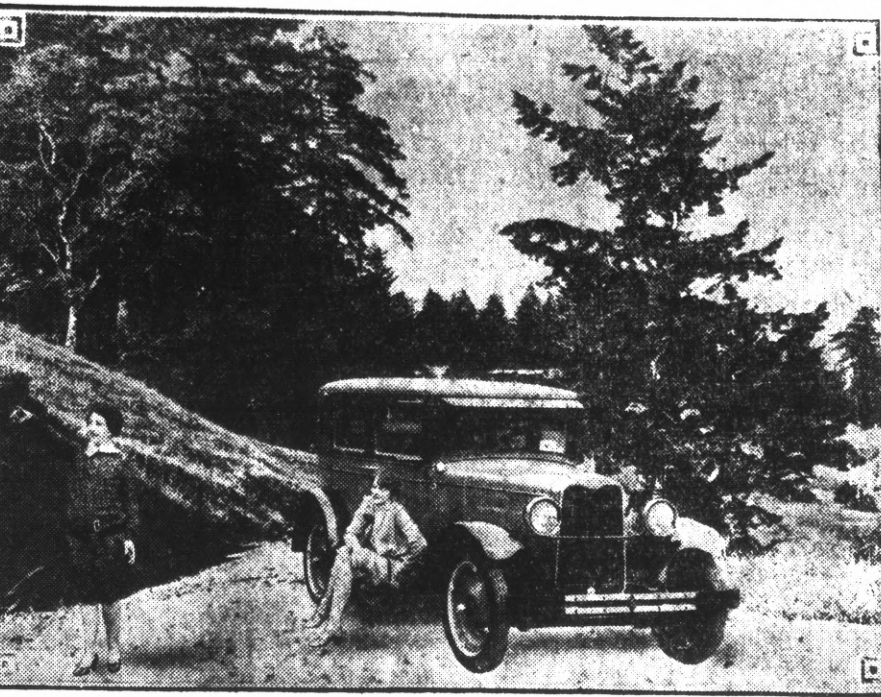

"There will be four buildings erected. The main factory structure will be one-story high, 660 feet by 420 feet. The one-story power plant will be 50 by 90 feet, the oil house 47 by 47 feet, and the two-story office building will be 40 by 140 feet. All will be of steel, concrete and brick."

Literature Is Given Tourists

The touring bureau of the California State Automobile association planned trips and furnished maps for 41,850 touring parties over the counters of its offices in thirty cities last month. In addition almost twice this number were furnished touring information over the telephone. More than 5000 touring parties were furnished routings to neighboring states and 2496 were prepared for transcontinental trips.

Chevrolet Sedan Answers the Call of the Open Road

With the coming of the fine summer weather motorists are heading for the mountains by the thousands. The roads are open unusually early this year and many beautiful spots are to be located even on a short day's run. The party in the Chevrolet sedan is shown on a road through the woods in back of Mount Tamalpais, Marin County.

BETTER AUTOS MAKE TOURING MORE POPULAR

The mechanical reliability of the present day automobile is an important factor in the growing popularity of motor touring as a summer diversion, according to J. P. Strom, local Oakland-Pontiac dealer.

Not many years ago, the motorist seldom dared to venture far from town. If he did, he could be reasonably sure of spending the night in a farm house.

But times have changed. The motor car no longer is a mechanical question mark. It has gained in speed, comfort and above all in reliability. A thousand mile tour offers no greater mechanical hazard than a drive around the block. This, of course, is due to the untiring efforts of automotive engineers. Eternally seeking that elusive "something better," they have engineered the uncertainty out of the automobile.

No small part of this work has been done by the engineers of the Oakland Motor Car company. Working in conjunction with the General Motors engineers, they have pioneered countless improvements which enable the tourist to start out, confident in the knowledge that he will return intact and under his own power.

For instance, if the reader recalls the early days of mountain touring, he will remember at least two reasons for frequent roadside halts—the boiling radiator and the difficulty in feeding his engine sufficient gasoline on a long upgrade pull.

Today, in his Oakland or Pontiac Six, he negotiates these same grades with ease. The cross-flow radiator, exclusive feature of the Oakland and Pontiac, is so designed that loss of water by evaporation is practically nil. Water that does vaporize in the engine is condensed and put back to work with out being allowed to escape from the radiator cap.

Another feature is the fact that both cars are equipped with a positive feed fuel pump. Geared to the engine, this pump ignores the decreasing atmospheric pressure encountered at the higher altitudes and provides exactly the right amount of gasoline.

The GMR cylinder head, standard on both Oakland and Pontiac, gives further assurance of uninterrupted touring pleasure. On the road, one frequently must buy any brand of gasoline that may be available. But gas is gas to the GMR head. It has no preferred brand. And it drinks in moderation.

These are some of the major reasons why the Oakland and Pontiac Sixes are popular among tourists. The excess power and ease of handling permit sustained travel of 300 to 400 miles per day without fatigue, and the cars mechanical stamina, combined with their long springs, Lovejoy shock absorbers, and luxuriously cushioned interiors, make touring a comfortable delight instead of a hardy adventure.

VACATION SEASON CALLS FOR SAFETY MEASURES BY AUTOS

This is the season of the year when the motorist more than ever must be on guard against traffic mishaps involving children. Schools are closed for the summer and during the long vacation period tens of thousands of children in all parts of the state are free to play all day, released from the usual restrictions and discipline of school days.

The Public Safety department of the California State Automobile association issued this vacation safety warning, pointing out that the children themselves have established an enviable safety record during the past school term. The public traffic reserve system, whereby older boys guide their schoolmates through traffic near schools, has set a safety record of no child killed or injured in streets near schools.

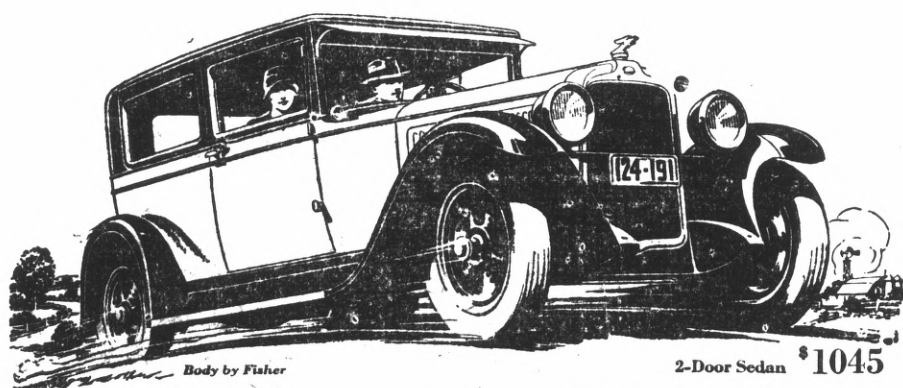

The junior traffic officers have been organized and trained for a number of years past at schools in principal cities throughout Northern and Central California by the motorists' organization. During the past year, through the cooperation of the State Motor Vehicle Division, these schoolboy patrols have been established in rural schools in forty-five counties.

Gratification is felt over the actual reduction in the traffic toll of children of school age. During the past year more intensive work than ever has been done in teaching children to be careful on the streets and highways. This traffic safety instruction in the classroom has been accomplished through a series of striking posters, teaching the children to bear in mind the danger of moving vehicles. These posters have been prepared and distributed monthly

STATE SUPREME IN ROWING AND TRACK EVENTS

NEW YORK, June 30.—(U.P.)—California rules the intercollegiate world this year where track and field and rowing are concerned.

Stanford's young men won the track and field championship of Intercollegiate A. A. A. at Cambridge late in May for the second straight year, rolling up 43 points to Yale's 23 1/2.

Then in mid June the University of California's young men swept down the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie to win the Intercollegiate rowing championship from Columbia.

When Stanford triumphed at Cambridge, it was the seventh time in eight years that a California school had won the I. C. A. A. A. title. The University of California won in 1921, 1922 and 1923. Yale interrupted the western winning streak in 1924, the University of Southern California captured the title in 1925 and 1926. Stanford has won the last two years.

When the University of California captured the most coveted of all rowing titles, it was the fourth time in six years that a western school has won the Poughkeepsie race. Washington won in 1923, 1924 and 1926 and finished second to the Navy in 1925 and second to Columbia in 1927.

All of which brings up the question as to the cause of the predominant supremacy of western athletes in these two branches of sport.

When a group of athletes travels from coast to coast and triumphs over all rivals there is little room for doubt, but when they keep doing it year after year there is none.

Offer Prizes For New Air Speed Mark

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(U.P.)—A new prize to speed aircraft after more and more miles per minute has just been announced by the National Aeronautic Association. Thirty former Naval Reserve aviators of the "Yale unit" organized in 1917, have donated a silver celestial globe to be awarded to fliers who break world speed records. The present record held by England, is more than six miles a minute.

The trophy will be known as the L. S. Thompson Speed Trophy in honor of L. S. Thompson, Red Bank, N. J., for his generous financial support and assistance during the training period of the Yale unit.

Under the terms of the gift the trophy itself does not become the property of the winning pilot, but five smaller replicas about twelve inches high will become as property of the various successful contestants.

The deed also provides that the trophy itself be left in possession of any recognized aeronautical club affiliated with the Federation Aeronautique Internationale or in the event the winning pilot is in the Army or Navy or Federal Air Service it shall go to the department of the government which he represents.

PLANES AGAIN ARE BLOKED BY HEAVY FOG

ABOARD RESCUE SHIP Q-1081 Virgo Bay, Spitzbergen, June 30.—Dense fog today halted a daring rescue attempt by two planes which went to the relief of six men from the wrecked dirigible Italia adrift on the ice of Northeastland.

A Finnish plane piloted by Lieut. Sakke and a Swedish Fokker plane, both equipped with skis, started the flight after receipt of urgent radio message asking for aid from Captain Einar Paul Lundborg, leader of the stranded men.

In two messages, Lundborg asked urgently for aid, explaining that the ice floe on which the party is stranded was threatening to disintegrate. The rescue planes encountered fog off Cape Platen and were forced to return here.

FRENCH MARK FATE RESTS ON NATIVES

BY J. W. T. MASON

Written for the United Press

NEW YORK, June 30.—How the French nation responds over a period of time to the stabilization of the franc will make or mar France's future financial standing in the world. Stabilization means an immense loss to the French inhabitants. If they take their loss as a purely domestic matter and do not involve their foreign indebtedness in it, then France will be saved financially. If, however, brooding over the hard consequences of stabilization leads to repudiation in any form at some future time of France's external obligations, the end of France as a first class power will be in sight.

This year has seen about 60,000,000,000 paper francs in circulation and an internal debt approaching 40,000,000,000 paper francs. The normal value of a franc is between nineteen and twenty cents. Stabilization at approximately four to five cents means there must be a loss of some 75 per cent of the value of the paper money and the internal debt. That is to say, Frenchmen who have put away paper francs must stand by and see each hundred francs vanish by and each thousand francs vanish to about twenty to twenty-five. Each thousand francs paper domestic government bond at the same time sinks to a value of two hundred to two hundred and fifty.

If the United States were in the same predicament as France and if stabilization of the dollar were necessary, persons who had paid a thousand dollars for a government bond before the war would be able to sell the bond or have it redeemed by the government for only two hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars. Those who had put away dollar bills in their banks would have the same condition to face. That is what stabilization means to France.

EXPLOSION IN STILL CAUSES RANCH BLAZE

MARTINEZ, June 30.—Two alleged moonshiners whose names the authorities decline to reveal were forced to make their getaway hurriedly yesterday at noon, leaving their luncheon at the Garry ranch home near Pinole when the liquor still which they are said to have been operating in an old barn exploded at an untimely moment and started a fire which destroyed many acres of postage and for a time threatened to invade the Standard Oil Company's San Pablo tank farm.

Fire departments from San Pablo and Pinole assisted the tank farm fire fighters in preventing the flames from endangering the general storage.

In response to reports of an explosion preceding the fire, Deputy District Attorney R. L. Boyer and Deputy Sheriff Frank Wilson yesterday afternoon conducted an investigation which revealed the ruined whiskey still and places arranged and food on the table, even the coffee cups filled, for three participants in the noonday lunch at the Garry home.

Pete Garry, owner of the ranch, and the only person found there by the officers was cloaked with District Attorney's aides this morning in response to a citation issued in an effort to ascertain the ownership and identity of the operators of the liquor plant.

IRONY IN PROSECUTION

MOSCOW, June 30.—(U.P.)—Much of the sabotage for which Nicholas Krilenko, the leading Soviet prosecutor, was called upon to prosecute coal-mining engineers, was carried on in a mine bearing his own name.

The "Krilenko Mine" figured in the evidence given by several of the Russian technicians who confessed to acts of sabotage under Krilenko's grueling questioning. All the mines have names given to them by workers in honor of Soviet leaders or Soviet ideals.

NEW RATES MAKE ELECTRIC COOKING VERY ECONOMICAL

And then let the electric range do all the cooking

Every woman loves to cook—when the monotony of cooking is gone.

That is what the electric range does. It eliminates cooking monotony. Its harmonious white porcelain enamel makes kitchens attractive. Its perfect baking wins appetites. And its automatic time and temperature controls do the cooking while you're shopping or at the movies.

The oven of the new electric range heats up to 400 degrees in 9 to 11 minutes—as fast as one can mix biscuits. The open coil cooking elements are now made smaller to fit your pans. Heat that was formerly wasted goes to work. The result is, food cooks faster—less electricity is used.

See the new electric ranges today. Ask about our special low terms.

LINCOLN ROAD MAY BE ROUTED THROUGH HERE

MARTINEZ, June 30.—Proposal that the Lincoln highway be re-routed through Contra Costa county will be laid before the board of supervisors Monday morning. It was indicated here in a letter County Clerk J. H. Wells received from W. P. Harrington, field secretary of the Lincoln Highway association.

Harrington's brief letter requesting appearance before the supervisors stated that he would also lay the proposal before the Solano County Board of Supervisors Monday afternoon.

The message to the supervisors did not outline the indicated plan for rerouting of the highway, but rather to state that it would prove a big asset to Contra Costa county.

The proposition is that it is the intention to re-route the highway from Sacramento through Solano county and thence over the Carquinez bridge of the American Toll Bridge company into Contra Costa county and thence to Oakland via the state highway.

The Lincoln highway now extends from Sacramento to Stockton and thence through Alameda county by way of Livermore to Oakland.

If the highway is re-routed through Contra Costa it will be the second major continental highway to traverse this county. The Victory highway route crosses the Antioch bridge over the San Joaquin river.

The Lincoln highway, extending as it does from eastern states and recognized and advertised as a coastal route, bears heavy tourist travel. Should the route of the highway be changed as Harrington's letter indicates is the intention, this traffic would be diverted through Contra Costa county.

An Aerial Visitor From the East

THE SOUTHERN CROSS, bearing the four valiant aviators from California, created intense commotion when it landed at Suva, Fiji Islands. The citizenry immediately surrounded the plane to congratulate the daring birdmen.

Nation's Fate In Gas Warfare Occupies Attention of Germans

BERLIN, June 30.—(UP)—The poisonous war-gas fumes which leaked out of a tank last month, swirled along the streets of Hamburg suburbs and threw horror and panic into more than a million Hamburg citizens, has aroused an intense discussion in the German press as to measures which should be taken to protect this country from gas attacks in case of future wars.

The debate regarding Germany's right to store poison gas at all, and whether such an act is in violation of the Versailles treaty, has been eclipsed in the public mind by the question, "Will the German civil population be helpless in the face of a future gas onslaught?"

Not that the origin of the fatal Hamburg gas has been clarified. While official quarters insist that the havoc-wreaking fumes emanated from a poison-gas supply which remained from the war, anti-governmental publicists hint that the disputed gas was manufactured as late as 1926 and was intended to be kept within the country for an emergency. Probably the truth on this point will never be known.

In the meantime, however, German newspapers are demanding emphatically that measures be undertaken to safeguard the country from the ghastly menace of gas attacks from future warring nations. It is generally agreed that the real primary function of military aviation in the next war will be to suffocate thousands of civilians by pouring poisonous fumes upon defenseless cities.

The "insecurity" of foreign countries towards the Hamburg gas disaster, according to one German writer, is due to the fact that, unlike Germany, most foreign nations are partly shielded against gas attacks by their anti-aircraft defense.

F. W. von Oertzen, military expert of the democratic "Vossische Zeitung," declares that Germany and her former wartime allies are

Indian Herbs

Is a good family medicine composed principally of herbs, roots and barks. An excellent liver regulator for sluggish bowels, kidney and constipation. You can get the money back at any of the agencies where you bought them if Indian Herb Compound does not benefit you after directions have been followed.

Indian Herbs are for sale by all local drug stores and at many other business places whose addresses are listed on the second page of the circular in each free sample given at all the local agencies. G. W. McPherson, resident agent for The Great American Herb Co., 606 Macdonald avenue.

Other prominent guests who will be present at this meeting are H. W. Winn of Emeryville, junior vice department commander; V. E. Bevers of San Francisco, department quartermaster and Ralph Mitchell of Oakland, member of the council of administration for district No. 5.

There will be a class initiation of 20 recruits, with the Emeryville team putting on the degree work. The regular business meeting will be short, in order to allow all members to fully enjoy the banquet which is to be served by Bob Benton, William Dahl and Harry Hunt.

Next Wednesday evening members of the local post, and the drum and bugle corps, will journey to Oakland to participate in the Fourth of July parade with other veteran organizations.

All members and candidates who have not taken the degree work are urged to be present at the meeting Tuesday evening.

As regards Holland, which now has one of the places generally recognized as belonging to Europe she will almost certainly be succeeded by Spain. While no definite promise of a council seat was held out to the latter as an inducement for her return to the League, it is considered certain the assembly will not fall toward her by an immediate election to the council.

The seat now occupied by China, and which is recognized as belonging to Asia will in all probability go to Persia which for a number of years has been demanding a seat as the only League member representing the Mohammedan world.

MARTINEZ, June 30.—Commencing tomorrow, July 1, the six-day working-week for oil workers in the Richmond Industrial Commission zone will be adopted by the Associated Oil Company.

The city is said, however, to have no funds to bear its share of the work, or at least not all of it. Private interests may be asked to help. The other side of the harbor, clear to the wharf line, has been dredged entirely at the city and government expense, and maintenance along the wharf edge zone will also fall on the city.

When the proposition to narrow the harbor first became known the Richmond Industrial Commission wrote to Congressman Curry urging that the lines as originally laid out be adhered to. He submitted the matter to General Deakin in Washington and filed the letter with him. Other interest that believed the harbor should not be narrowed also made a showing in the matter. The contention was that new conditions had arisen which promised a commerce on the west side that made narrowing inadvisable. It is said that the proposed location of the El Dorado Oil plant and terminal and the proposed Santa Fe shipping and industrial terminal which hinges on it constituted the main influence in keeping the harbor at the original width.

Will data showing that cost of maintaining the El Dorado basin will fall below $2000 annually and with the cost of the basin dredging guaranteed by private interests, the Merchants' association and others seeking to secure for Richmond the El Dorado plant and the Santa Fe terminal, believe the maintenance will be granted. The federal engineers have given practical assurance, it is reported that the government will bear all the maintenance cost of that portion of the basin inside the federal project.

CHAMBERLAIN'S "ANSWER"
MOSCOW, June 30.—(UP)—The Soviet masses are still "answering Chamberlain" in terms of military airplanes. More than a year after the British Minister of Foreign Affairs made his famous attack on the Soviet Union, 32 additional planes have been presented to the government here by various organizations.

These planes were subscribed for by tens of thousands of workers as "Our answer to Chamberlain." The answer now totals 32 planes.

AN OLD CROW JOKE
LANCASTER, Pa., June 30.—(UP)—Elizabethan's flying chicken has turned out to be a crow.

For weeks residents of Elizabethan near here reported that a white chicken was consorting with a flock of crows in the neighborhood—even flying and roosting in trees with them.

Farmers became interested and investigated. The flying chicken, it developed, was merely an Albino crow.
